“ When I was 8 years old I went to spend 2 weeks with my Aunt Barbara, Uncle Don. cousins Donna Kay and Richard Eldon. Donna Kay and I had such a good time together and I can still remember minute details of the visit such as getting snow cones, and jumping on (and falling off of) the trampoline. She and I lived in Dallas near each other as adults, and would occasionally get together to have dinner, party, get hair done, whatever, and I remember that she was always very positive and upbeat. When my sister Mae passed away, Donna was very comforting, and told me some stories that she had about my sister. It meant a great deal to me. I will miss her friendship very much.

“ *A great memory that I always had and shared with everyone about Donna was growing up with delanie , I used to stay the night a lot and every morning at 4am. Donna would get up , cut the grass and do all the yard work then go walk and come back and clean the whole house and then make a big breakfast before we went to school !! Like really I'm 23 and I have trouble doing one of those things in one day . Lol that women could do so much and make it look easy ! I love her laugh and just the way she was so sweet and funny ! Donna you will always be in my heart and I'll miss you so much .I'm so glad that your daughter is my best friend !! I love you Donna ! Your a beautiful angel now !

“ Donna wasn't the kind of friend you met and just said hi from time to time. She was the kind of friend you have for life. She was very devoted to the people she loved and who loved her.

Every memory I have of my girls growing up, involve Donna. We spent countless weekends at each others houses going through our clothes and trying to decide what was still in style and what we should get rid of, while in the other room, were our kids cheerfully playing and deciding what else we were going to do that afternoon.

You were the sister I always wanted and I love you so dearly Donna. Now you are in heaven and I am sure they rejoice to have you. I am sure by now you are hugging your sweet daddy and having a great reunion.

Until we see each other, my beautiful friend...
