“ Dear Hubbard Family,
Please accept my sincere condolences on the loss of your dear loved one Harold. Although we don't know each other personally, death is something that touches us all. Many times there are no human words to express nor heal the pain that I know you must feel. But our loving Heavenly Father cares so deeply for your family, and He understands the pain and complex emotions you are dealing with. (1 Peter 5:7) He has already made provisions, by means of His son Jesus Christ, to reunite all of us with our dead loved ones by means of a resurrection right here on the earth in paradise conditions where we will all enjoy peace, happiness, and perfect health. (John 5:28,29; Psalms 37:9-11,29; Isaiah 33:24) In fact during that time, He has promised to eradicate death forever along with any painful memories we may have. (Isaiah 25:8; Isaiah 65:17) God's promises have proven to be a strengthening aid to me during difficult times such as these. I am confident that we have every reason to believe that He will do all that He says because it is impossible for Him to lie. (Hebrews 6:18) May these Bible promises help to make your present pain a little easier to bear in the days to come. My deepest sympathy to you. ##imported-begin## Khrystalle Harris ##imported-end##

“ Sally & Family,

At a time like this, it is hard to find words to express condolence to someone who has lost a loved one. May our prayers comfort you and his loving memories help to push away the pain and bring the smiles back again. Please know that you are not alone and that we all hold you dear.

With Deepest Sympathy,

“ Mr. Hubbard was one of the first people I met when I started working as an Aide at Desoto H.S. The one thing I remember most about Mr. Hubbard was how friendly he was to me. He never treated me like I didnt know what I was talking about or like I was beneath him. He was always so nice, friendly, and approachable. Normally, I am a little stand offish when I meet new people, but Mr. Hubbard made me feel at home and he made it very easy for me to talk to him whether it was a long conversation, or just a quick "hello." God Bless You Mr. Hubbard.##imported-begin##Sherolyn Murray##imported-end##

“ Our thoughts are with you, Alana, and all the Hubbard family.

We were charter members of the 1950's Park Place 'Dead End Kids', along with Bill Hubbard, Darwin Fields, Jack Mays, and Sally Ann Hubbard. We terrorized possums, squirrels, dogs, cats, neighbors and any who came into the 'hood.

We played games of our own invention and swam the creek during floods. We staged horse apple fights, mud ball fights, BB gun wars. We were nuts, but it was a more innocent time.

What a long strange trip it has been. Harold and I went on a dive trip in Honduras and on one dive, he and I peeked into an underwater cave to discover ourselves face to mouth with one of the biggest groupers (big gentle fish) I have ever seen. I remember vividly the underwater scream that Harold let out, and later we laughed about it.

Harold is missed, but will never be forgotten.##imported-begin##Barry Everett##imported-end##
