“ We played basketball together several years in high school and we lived on the same street (Elm) in Lancaster. Never knew his first name was John, just knew his as Stewart. I don't remember him not having a smile on his face and he was always a nice, friendly, outgoing guy. Probably the only time I saw Stewart after graduating was at Coach Cockerham's Recognition Day and perhaps at a reunion but he was still smiling. Heaven will now enjoy that smile.##imported-begin##Buddy Pittman##imported-end##

“ Stewart was a friend of mine in high school and we really had some fun/wild times. A year or so ago, I called him to invite him to our reunion and learned he had broken his leg. He told me he would try to come. We had a nice chat and I am so happy for that. He was funny and full of life and every time I saw him he was just the same as always. My condolences to his family.###imported-begin##Nancy Duff Morgan###imported-end##
