“ Grandpa,

As hard and stressful as it is to be in college away from my family, it's even more harder to process you being gone. In the last conversation we had over the phone, you told me how beautiful, strong, and kind I am and how I will achieve many things in the future. In all honesty, even when I am strong, I feel so weak knowing I am not able to call you just to hear you say those kind words to me. One memory I had with you was when I was little, you asked me to dance and I said no because I was upset for some reason. I always promised myself that when I get the chance to dance with you, I'll ask you. But now, you're gonna and I think that's my biggest regret next to not seeing you before I left. I pray you watch over me while I'm away from family doing big things for my well-being. I pray that even when I'm at the weakest point in my life where I feel unmotivated to do anything, you'll be there in spirit to encourage me to keep pushing forward. I pray that you are happy and feel so much better now that you are in heaven. It'll be a long until I see you. But when I do, I'll make sure to ask you for that dance that I always wanted. Until then, I love you so much and miss you so much. Thank you for the motivating words you gave me ever since I was a little girl. I'll make sure to make you proud.

“ Mr Joe,
Thanks for being the best neighbor we could have in our little corner. You were the 1st person I met when moved in & I enjoyed our talks... especially those at the mailbox.

You did well Mr. Joe! Rest on in God's arms.

We will try to be good neighbors to Ms Olga as you were to all of us!

ME

“ Daddy,
Life will not be the same without you here. It's hard waking up and wanting to call or text you, knowing you won't answer back. I'm thankful for the voicemails I saved from you, that I will always cherish. I thank you for being by my side through all my hard times of my life. Being there for my kids especially my boys Anthony(peanut) and Aaron (cowboy)and stormy (your dumpling #2). And being a father figure to my husband Anthony. I know you'll be watching over my family.

I think of all the times when I would stay up late at night for you to come home.Now I know you'll be waiting for me to finally come "HOME."

I love you and will miss you always until that day comes when I see you again.

Love, your sweet dumplings and baby
