She quickly earned a reputation as a caregiver, helping her parents and siblings with anything they needed. After high school, she was employed by the Federal Reserve Bank. “ So many memories of my Aunt Lois. Growing up, I spent countless hours at her house as she was my second mom while my own mother went to work. She had a kind reassuring voice even when explaining what you were not supposed to do. I never once in my lifetime heard her raise her voice, in fact I’m not sure her voice was capable of raising. Her home was a happy, fun place where she always prepared home cooked meals and home baked snacks. Refrigerator cookies were my favorite. She invented fun games and adventures from things around the house and she was always engaging with us all. Aunt Lois always gave the most thoughtful gifts that you remembered from the least amount of money. I’ll never forget the sentiments she expressed in cards to me and my family. She once told me after I had all my boys that I made the most beautiful babies. Those words have stayed with me. She was the most kind thoughtful person with the sweetest heart ever. I will miss her forever but I’m grateful for getting such a large part of her and am so thankful her long felt pain is over.
