“ I thank God for blessing me with a special friend and co-worker. Lisa was always there to keep me balanced between work and school. There are too many wonderful memories for me to list them all here. A really trivial story comes to mind...I was having a tough time financially and made the statement that I was making things work, but I could not even afford to buy myself new mascara. The very next day she brought me a tube of Mary Kay mascara. Like I said, very trivial to most, but it meant the world to me.
