“ Memories/Stories?.....I got 'em.....Some I witnessed, some I'm in, some were told to me by Frank. I could fill this page but I won't. Frank was one unique individual. I've never met a man like him and probably won't again. He was a good man that would do anything he could for me and was always there when I needed him. Whatever it might be. Borrow tools, help work on cars or maybe just talk. If he couldn't help me with my needs he would always get me pointed in the right direction. "I gotta guy" He would always throw in a little unsolicited advice as well. That was just Frank. I'm kicking myself for not keeping in touch with him like I should have these last few years. I am proud to have known him and be able to call him my friend. Even though he hardly ever called me by my name. Just called me "Yankee". That's better than "Ding A Ling". He called a lot of people that. He had a name for everybody. You didn't need a name when you got around Frank. If he liked you he'd just give ya one. Sorry to see him go. They don't build 'em like Frank anymore!.....Fat Man, I'll see you over yonder. Get things in order. I'll be look'n for an egg when I get there buddy.....R.I.P. My Friend.
