“ Beautiful woman, clearly, inside and out. Although I never got to meet you I feel I know you because you gifted this world with a miraculous boy named Don, my friend of nearly 30 years. I'll meet you one day, I'm sure. In heaven. Until then, enjoy the radiant love God has for you!

“ I got to know Pat back in the late 1980s when I worked on weekends at Kings Creek Gardens. She was always cheerful, ready for a laugh, and one of the kindest people imaginable. In late 1989 when I was pregnant with my younger son, management decided I didn't need to be lifting things and hanging around chemicals, so I drove into Dallas a few days a week to the landscape office to help Pat with the books. That's when I got to really know her better and we had the best time together. Over the years I have not seen her very often, but she would send me cheery messages on FaceBook and I was always so happy to hear from her. I am comforted to know that she is now with those she loved that went before her and her health issues are no more. I love you, Pat. You are a treasure. My deepest condolences to her family.
