Dick was such a kind and gracious man. His kindness was spread to so many people whose life he touched. He will be missed but he will also be in heaven watching over everyone he cared about.

“ Words come hard sometimes when it comes time to pay tribute to a great man -- a non-assuming, humble, but great man. Writing as I look at his picture makes me and -- I am sure -- all of us miss Dick the more. I just noticed that Dick was born on December 12, the day my, Jean, Tim, and Wayne's dad died; and he died on August 9, the day our mother was born: Just a small signal to show how much a part of our family he was. Dick and I had some of our best moments when things were the toughest. We visited in the hospital when he had heart surgery a couple of years ago and had prayer, and he came by my and Marilyn's house about a year ago after my vocal cord surgery and engaged me in an impromptu study of the Holy Spirit. I was still on limited word-count, but it was the best study we ever had (which should tell me something! :) ... And, of course, many of you know of our 100 mph trip together to the hospital in 2006 when one of us was having a heart attack. I miss my good brother-in-law and am thankful that God sent him our way to make us all a little better. May God bless his memory and you all during this time! ~ Steven Bowen

“ I was so blessed to have Dick as a brother-in-law. I will miss him being in his room and always greeting me with a huge hug. We had many wonderful times together especially our hamburger suppers on Sunday evenings. I love you and I am grateful for the humble Christian life you led. Your sister-in-law, Marilyn Bowen
