“ He was a neighbor of mine and his wife was my P.E. teacher. One day he was putting out his garbage and I stopped to see if I could help him. I said are you Mr. Peebles? He answered with a smile, I'm what's left of him! Lol! I will always remember that day when both of our lives intersected. After that everytime I went by his house, I would pray for him! He was a good man and I know y'all will miss him but, but you have lots of cherished memories! I will be praying for comfort and peace during this sad time!

“ I’m at a loss of words, I just can’t believe your gone.
You were my roll model, you were my inspiration, you were the man I aspired to be every day. You arguably had the biggest impact on my life, than any other person. Almost every moral code I live by, I learned and modeled after you.
I always have tried my best to make you proud. Every major life decision, I ever made I always knew you were the one to seek advice from and you always guided me in the right direction. You where there for me when ever I needed, you help me get through some of the toughest times and where there to support me through some of the best times.
I’m going to miss all of our truck ride story’s, all of the Friday night Rangers games on TV with Grandma, even all of our bickering back and forth while working out side at the barn lol, I’m going to miss all the phone calls every week asking how every thing is going and most of all I’m going to miss you telling me how proud you are on how far I’ve made in life.
You were the absolute best Grandfather a kid could hope for, I’m going to miss the heck out of you. Rip Pawpaw!!! - Mark Zoeller

“ I never ever ever wanted to have to make this post I wish It was my life and not urs, ur the greatest man that ever walked the face of the earth there’s nothing in this world you wouldn’t have done for someone. You literally felt like a father figure to me. Pretty much raised me and did sooooo much for me. Thank you so much for ur service in the navy. I can’t believe this is really happening doesn’t even feel like real life please come back so I can just hug you and talk to you one last time I love you so much pawpaw RIP❤️
