“ My heart is broken. In the weeks ahead I guess we will all have time to think about our loss and what it means to each one of us. But for now, let me celebrate the joy and the love that I knew with my sweet aunt Valera. She was a gift to us all and I am blessed to have had her in my life.

I love you Valera and I will miss you so much.##imported-begin##Resa Alexander##imported-end##

“ Many people believe that angels are God’s messengers at work in the world today.

Angels come in many forms, from helpful animals to mysterious strangers, from glorious heavenly angels to earth angels, those human beings who generously assist others.

Angels can come to us in dreams, on a breeze, or in a strain of music. When they appear, they are surrounded by profound mystery and radiate life-affirming hope.

Valera is one of our family's angels now watching over us.##imported-begin##Deborah & Earl Herrera##imported-end##
